The Toolkit is informed by research and policy in relation to UDL and consultation with colleagues at DCU.	https://dcuh5p.com/universal-design-for-learning-toolkit-for-moodle/
	REALIZEIT	Realizeit was founded in 2007 by teachers, researchers and technologists on the belief that every student can realize his or her full learning potential with the right support. Their goal was to create an individualized learning model that would power success for every learner by delivering a truly adaptive teaching and learning experience. Realizeit's intelligent adaptive learning and analytics platform is the result of that vision. Realizeit's intelligent adaptive learning and analytics platform enables engaging, personalized learning experiences. Educators can start with our pre-built courses or work with our team to create their own custom learning experiences in our adaptive system. Realizeit has served well over 1 million course-takers in more than 800 courses. The system is mobile friendly, accessibility compliant and integrates seamlessly into any LMS.	https://www.realizeitlearning.com/
	Faoi Gheasa: an adaptive game for Irish language learning	The aim of the game is to promote language learning and 'noticing'. This adaptive game has been designed for Irish, but the framework could be used for other languages. Irish is a minority language which means that L2 learners have limited opportunities for exposure to the language, and additionally, there are also limited (digital) learning resources available.	https://aclanthology.org/2022.compute1-1.17.pdf
